

Terms of Use

I understand that any insurance terms and definitions are meant for general informational purposes and not meant as specific advice or recommendations. For detailed information, it is my responsibility to contact “Assurance Partners”.

I understand that no coverage quoted or change requested will be assumed bound or covered until I have received written or verbal confirmation from “Assurance Partners”.

I understand that “Assurance Partners” will receive documentation of all service requests, requests for information, or declination for additional information which may become part of my customer file.

I understand that “Assurance Partners” will process service requests based on information provided through this site and that I will receive confirmation of all changes to my coverage. I authorize all such changes, and assume the responsibility of notifying “Assurance Partners” in the event of errors or misunderstandings.

I understand that “Assurance Partners” will handle service requests in good faith based on registration information. All service requests will be confirmed to the client and they must contact “Assurance Partners” in the event of an error.

I understand that I am responsible for updating my email address and other information in the event of change.

I understand that insurance terms, descriptions of coverage, and other insurance information is not meant to be complete, and I should either contact “Assurance Partners” or read the policy for complete information.

I understand that all insurance and non-insurance information is for general purposes and may not be up-to-date or complete. “Assurance Partners” is not responsible for information in sites linked.